

Alvarado Bio 2012

Juli Alvarado is an internationally recognized consultant, motivational speaker and expert in the area of relationship, attachment, trauma, and treatment of high risk, behaviorally disordered children and families. She has spent the past 20 years working with organizations and family clients in foster care and adoption. She is the president and owner of coaching for LIFE!, a personal and professional development firm with an emphasis in maximizing human potential through relationship, at home and in the office. Currently Ms. Alvarado provides expert consultation for state departments, judicial branches, agencies, corporations and families internationally. Her Keynote offerings are known to move the audience to tears and laughter time after time. Her use of real – life examples as a treatment foster parent, mother of five, and owner and president of a successful consulting and therapy practice has proved empowering to audiences and families as they gain specific strategies for bringing increased peace into their work settings homes, and lives.